

Jason Pottinger
CFL Grey Cup Champion

Jason earned an MBA at the Schulich School of Business, York University, Canada specializing in international business & marketing. Undergraduate work was completed at McMaster University in Hamilton, Ontario, where he earned degrees in economics & geography.

Most recently, Jason has consulted with several technology start-ups working on business development and marketing strategies.

Prior to transitioning into the business world, Jason was drafted in the first round, second overall to the British Columbia Lions Football Club in the Canadian Football League (CFL). He went on to win the Grey Cup Championship in his first year with the Lions. After his third season he was traded to the Toronto Argonauts Football Club and remained with them for five years, winning another Grey Cup Championship in 2012 (the historic 100th Grey Cup which was played in Toronto). In December of 2013 he was selected in the third and final round of the expansion draft for the CFL's new Ottawa REDBLACKS Football Club.

Jason currently resides in downtown Toronto with his Wife Elizabeth.
